Why we do, what we do

Peter Knapp has turned his passion into a career. For over 25 years, he has been helping people and companies recognize and develop their potential.

His methods and approaches focus on asking questions and active listening: "We can only discover room for creativity and action by engaging in open, accessible dialogue."

The trainers and consultants within the Peter Knapp GmbH network share this belief. Just like us, they encourage and enable people and companies to change for the benefit of their environment.

Inspiring Personalities

We are over 60 internationally active consultants and trainers. Depending on each project, we match team experience and competencies to meet your needs.

Together, we offer our customers the stability of a company and the flexibility of a network.

Customization

We offer individual and customized solutions. During our consultation process, we run diagnostics and conceptualize in parallel.

Experience

Our consultants are doers and were decision makers themselves. They are well aware of the requirements demanded.

Quality

You see the impact of our work

Innovation

We are renowned for having our fingers on the pulse of all the latest trends. Our Advisory Board keep us current on science and research – the perfect mix of innovation and experience.

Professionalism

We stay on top of things: our processes are fast and efficient. Whenever you need our support, we are there for you.

Strategy

In collaboration with you, we develop goals and discover new paths.

Change

We support you during significant changes: from analysis through to implementation.

Companies

Organization

We bring you in top form – using different frameworks, processes and interfaces.

Diagnostics

We identify the people and potential that suit your organizational needs.

Leadership

We develop the mindset, motivation and skills of your leaders.

People

Collaboration

We help you to address the crucially important things – in sales, negotiations or in conflicts.

Projects

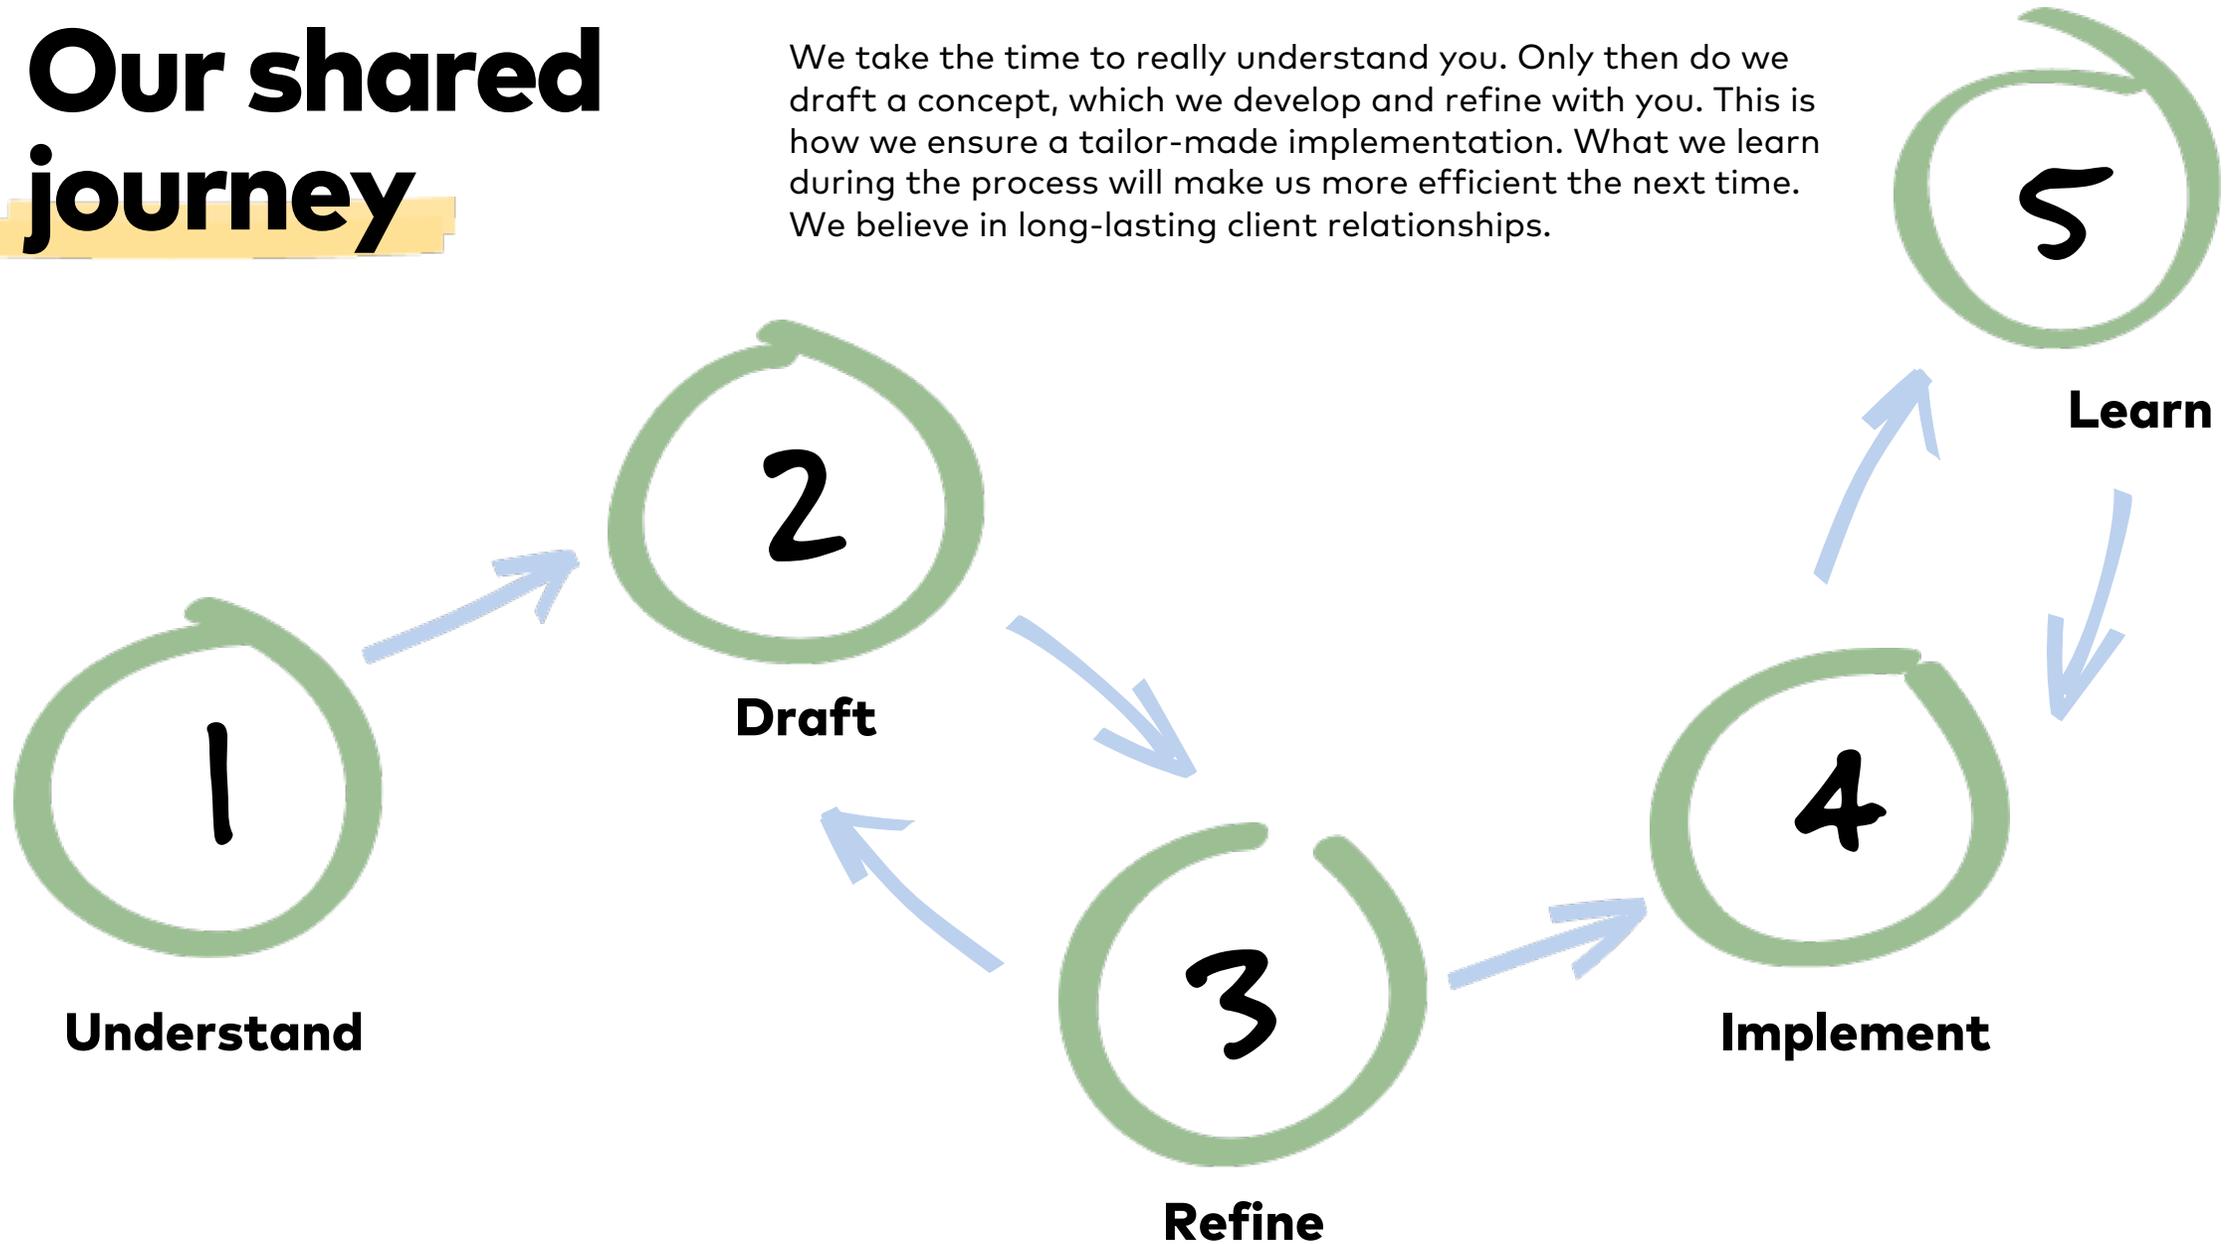

We provide you with the necessary tools for your projects – be it agile or traditional.

Our shared journey

We take the time to really understand you. Only then do we draft a concept, which we develop and refine with you. This is how we ensure a tailor-made implementation. What we learn during the process will make us more efficient the next time. We believe in long-lasting client relationships.

We look forward to meeting you!
